

U.P.C.C.p | U.P.C.C.s: Distinguishing primary/secondary Events

Universal Proto-Cosmic Collapse[p]

The distinction between U.P.C.C._p and U.P.C.C._s clarifies that the cosmogenic collapse we model in this universe is itself downstream of a more fundamental pre-cosmic rejuvenation event. Per tenets of Plancktonian Protophysics, we recognize that prior Cosmic events prior to our own, the information/matter/energy of said pre-event cycle(s) has been reorganized into us and our ‘now’, and therefore simply do not exist and (likely) can never be investigated, until tools and techniques advance to make such possible.

The UPCC_p is the “substrate-reset” function of i.i., a function long since established within the i.i. functioning and Zo- behaviors of “Pre-verse” iterations and manifestations; . .

. . the U.P.C.C._s is the universe-forming instability that follows, manifesting into us in our reality as we experience it.

This separation gives the architecture an upstream for the current downstream, and it establishes a clean placeholder for future development — the domain where Zo-physics 2.0 may eventually formalize the full rejuvenation cycle.
